Item 8.01 Other Events

On November 2, 2018, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) published the final rule and related final rates for the calendar year (CY) 2019, Medicare Hospital Outpatient Prospective Payment System (OPPS) and the CY 2019 Ambulatory Surgical Center (ASC) payment systems. In these postings, CMS finalized a Medicare hospital average outpatient rate for CY 2019 of approximately $152,500 for the Argus[®] II Retinal Prosthesis System (Argus II) and the associated surgical implantation procedure, and a proposed ASC average rate of approximately $134,051 for the Argus II and related implantation procedure. CMS also reassigned Current Procedural Terminology (CPT) code 0100T (Placement of subconjunctival retinal prosthesis receiver and pulse generator, and implantation of intra-ocular retinal electrode array, with vitrectomy) from Ambulatory Payment Classification (APC) 1904, with a CY 2018 Medicare payment rate of approximately $122,500, to APC 1908, with a CY 2019 payment rate of approximately $152,500.

The final hospital outpatient and ASC rates include both the Argus II, reported with HCPCS code C1841 (Retinal prosthesis, includes all internal and external components), and the surgical implantation procedure, reported with CPT code 0100T. CMS acknowledged the difficulty presented by variation in the CMS payment rate for Argus II, and the need to mitigate these variations. It presented three methodologies of calculating the rate based on data from multiple years. The Secretary used the equitable adjustment authority to set the new payment rate. The likely result is that the payment rate will stabilize at this level for the foreseeable future.

Payment for Argus II has been reduced in some cases when packaged with a J1 coded procedure. To address this issue and help ensure that there is sufficient claims data for services assigned to New Technology APCs, in the CY 2019 OPPS/ASC proposed rule, CMS has proposed to exclude payment for any procedure that is assigned to a New Technology APC (APCs 1491 through 1599 and APCs 1901 through 1908) from being packaged when included on a claim with a “J1” service assigned to a C-APC.

In addition, the CMS postings address CY 2019 payments for the codes for initial programming and reprogramming services related to Argus II – CPT codes 0472T (Device evaluation, interrogation, and initial programming of intra-ocular retinal electrode array (e.g., retinal prosthesis), in person, with iterative adjustment of the implantable device to test functionality, select optimal permanent programmed values with analysis, including visual training, with review and report by a qualified health care professional) and 0473T (Device evaluation and interrogation of intra-ocular retinal electrode array (e.g., retinal prosthesis), in person, including reprogramming and visual training, when performed, with review and report by a qualified health care professional). CMS finalized its proposed APC assignments for these codes. As such, the CY 2019 national average hospital outpatient payment rates for the initial programming (CPT code 0472T) and for the reprogramming (CPT code 0473T) are $280.41 and $117.54, respectively.

This final rule and related files affect Medicare payment to the hospital outpatient departments and ambulatory surgical centers that are paid under the OPPS and ASC prospective payment system for services rendered on or after January 1, 2019. They do not directly alter payment from Medicare Advantage, private U.S. health insurance and non-U.S. reimbursement.
